REPARATION HOPE SEEN IN EUROPE IF BERLIN HELPS

Plan Hangs on Teuton Stand; France, England Still Divided; Quick Action for Proposal

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
PARIS, April 9.—Plenty of time will be taken by the Reparations Commission to review and digest the reports of the various committees headed by Gen. Dawes and Reginald Dwyer which were handed to that body today. The commission is not likely to act before the end of next week in view of the necessity of the members consulting their respective governments, according to Allied circles.

INDICTMENT TO BE AIED

Senate Will Sift Wheeler Case

Another Investigation to be Conducted as Result of Montana Charges

Accused Member Says it is All Dastardly Plot to Intimidate Him

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, the radical young "prosecutor" of the Brookhart investigating committee, is to be investigated himself by a special Senate committee, it was decided today.

Albert B. Cummins, president pro tempore of the Senate, was instructed by resolution today to appoint a committee of five who will examine into all the circumstances surrounding the indictment of Senator Wheeler by a Federal grand jury in Montana on Tuesday on the charge that he had appeared before the Department of the Interior on behalf of an oil client.

ALIENISTS FIND THAW NOT INSANE

Attorneys for Slayer of Stanford White See Jury Victory Next Week

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Harry K. Thaw has been adjudged sane by five alienists recently authorized by the court to investigate his mental status.

The results of the examination became known today following conferences between the physicians and the alienists, who are in attendance at the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases, Monday before Judge Monaghan.

That Thaw is sane is the opinion of Dr. Charles K. Miller, as well as Dr. Charles E. Potts, Dr. Max H. Boehm, Dr. Elwood Kirby, and Dr. George Wilson.

The report of the alienists was not only welcomed by the attorneys for the slayer of Stanford White, but also by Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, the defendant's white-haired mother, who is largely responsible for the fight for the sanity order.

Yes, it is true that the five alienists who examined Thaw found him to be sane, said Judge Patterson today. "However, I do not wish to talk too much, as I might spoil our case when it comes to court. That would be too late now that there is no doubt about the physical and mental condition of Mr. Thaw."

Likewise, the physicians who examined him intimated that they would rather do their talking on the witness stand.

"But you can say that Harry K. Thaw is perfectly sane," declared Miller. "And what's more, that's what I intend to tell the jury next Monday if I am called to testify."

Should Thaw be adjudged sane by the jury next week, he will automatically resume control of his estate, said by financial experts to have increased greatly during the last few years.

Other Foot and Mouth Outbreaks

LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Throughout today Hugo Stinnes, the financial czar of Germany, was fighting for his life at a sanatorium to which he was taken a few days ago. The man around whose name many legends have woven themselves and who has been represented by some as Germany's salvation and by others as her perdition—though by all as one of the most extraordinary business geniuses of all time—was reported again and again during the day as dead.

Having successfully withstood two operations within the past few days for bladder trouble his ailment suddenly took such a serious turn that early this afternoon his physicians nearly despaired of his life. Last week the patient was so far advanced toward recovery that he talked of leaving the sanatorium and going to Italy for recuperation.

News of his desperate condition was like a bombshell on the Berlin exchange. Although two important pieces of news—the arrival here of the Dawes committee's report and the breaking off of the "Munich" negotiations—reached Berlin simultaneously, the news of Stinnes' fight with death threw both into the background.

Known to brokers as "Stinnes" and "What's the latest about Stinnes?" At the same time shares in numerous concerns wherein Stinnes was a partner began falling rapidly.

It is impossible to foresee what will happen if Stinnes dies, as some regard him as Germany's malevolent genius who has hurt Germany abroad by parading unlimited wealth and thus has fostered the belief that Germany is only shamming when she says she is poor, whereas others still hold him as the greatest of Germans, who is trying to guide Germany to salvation.

It was pointed out today by a prominent German, who greatly admired Stinnes as a business genius, that he was not only a political activist, that he, Stinnes, seems to get his head turned when he is in Germany, but that he is a Napoleon who can shape political events just as he guides the destinies of intricately ramified business undertakings wherein he is the directing force.

This man points out Stinnes as being a hand in glove with Ludendorff and other ultra-reactionaries whose recent activities have been around in half the States and anger abroad, especially in France. Despite tales of Stinnes' fabulous wealth it is said in Germany that his business interests are so multifarious and interlocking that he himself probably cannot say with- in millions how much he is worth.

"Hugo Stinnes is not so much a millionaire as a clever juggler in billions," said a prominent German banker today. "Maybe he is not a rich man at all."

Had Stinnes' condition become today that members of his family hurried from Stinnes' home at Mulheim in the Ruhr district to speed to Berlin and repaired immediately to the sanatorium in official circles, although official comment was reserved until completion of a study of the document.

Considerable satisfaction that the experts had agreed Germany is able to pay her reparations and that the decision was unanimous was evident. Strong hopes were expressed that a practical solution of the reparations tangle will result.

Vinson has accepted the post of chemist in the Service Technique of the Island of Haiti under Dr. George F. Freeman, island director of agriculture and a former associate of the appointee in the local college. COMING—APRIL 16TH

Frequently the Los Angeles Times takes pleasure in paying its readers an extra "dividend." Sometimes it's in the form of a brand new feature or supplement; sometimes the improvement of an old one.

An extra dividend will be declared on Wednesday, April 16, in connection with The Times' popular motion-picture magazine, The Pre-View.

This youngest member of The Times magazine family has become so popular, winning for itself an audience throughout the United States, that it has been decided to broaden its scope, enlarge its staff of writers and illustrators, add new department, and make it more than ever the most novel and interesting film publication in the country.

As heretofore, The Pre-View, although sold at 10 cents per copy, will be delivered without extra charge to all regular monthly subscribers of The Times; and Times subscribers may look forward to a surprise and a treat when they open up next Wednesday's issue of The Times.

STINNES IN COOLIDGE MAJORITIES IN GRIM FIGHT TWO STATES INCREASED

Battles Gamely Late Returns Give President Lead of 110,000 in Illinois and 30,000 in Nebraska

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, April 9.—The full extent of the endorsement given President Coolidge at the polls in Illinois and Nebraska yesterday was emphasized tonight as additional returns added to the majorities rolled up by the President over Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

When totals were struck late tonight, Coolidge was found to be leading Johnson in Illinois by almost 110,000 votes and in Nebraska by a few short of 30,000. At that time 800 precincts remained to be heard from in Illinois and 265 in Nebraska, and the trend of the returns seemed to justify belief that the majorities for Coolidge in the respective States would be still further increased.

NOT TALKING ON POLITICS

Johnson Silent on Withdrawal

California Takes Profound Interest in Legislation After Debate

Backers, However, Reported Thinking About Asking Him to Pull Out

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—The friends and advisers of Senator Hiram Johnson in Washington are taking counsel over the future of his Presidential campaign in the light of the primary returns from Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska, but none of them was willing tonight to forecast the outcome of their discussions.

Senator Johnson himself was even more incommunicative. He had no comment to make on the outcome of primary elections in any of the States which recently have swelled the total of delegates for President Coolidge. He declined to support the political impressions he gathered during the swing into the West from which he has just returned. He was aside all talk of impending political conferences with the terse remark that he had been too busy with legislation today to think of politics.

"I know nothing about it," was his only response when his attention was called to the conference plans of various of his supporters, some of whom are expected to be already on their way to Washington to talk over the future of his candidacy.

PROFESSES IGNORANCE

The same reply was made by Mr. Johnson to widely circulated reports that his withdrawal as an active candidate was one of the possibilities of the near future. He disclaimed having called any "conference" of his supporters and said he "knew nothing" of any project to abandon his plans for campaign trips into States where primaries still are to be held.

It is expected that some of the Senator's friends will advocate a continuance of the campaign must be based on some other method of procedure than that which has failed to produce results in the West and Middle West. There has been no concealment of the surprise and disappointment of Johnson supporters, and the candidate himself at his failure to command majorities in the States.

HENEY TO AID INQUIRY

Senator Couzens Succeeds in Effort to Employ Counsel for Revenue Bureau Quiz

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—The peace of the Senate special committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau was shattered today when Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, was joined by committee Democrats in a successful effort to employ Francis J. Heney of California, at the Michigan Senator's expense, as special counsel to conduct the committee inquiry. The resolution went through, three to two, despite the reiterated prediction of Sen. Watson, Republican, Indiana, chairman, and Senator Ernst, Republican, Kentucky, that the appointment of Heney, famous for many years as a public prosecutor, meant "another Senate muckracking" expedition, and Senator Ernst's declaration that it was aimed by Senator Couzens at Secretary Mellon because the Secretary had "spanked" the Senator in their recent public tax controversy.

Senators King of Utah and Jones of New Mexico were the Democrats who voted with Senator Couzens. It developed in the committee discussion that the first suggestion for a committee counsel had come to Senator Couzens from Senator Jones, who had observed, Senator Couzens declared heatedly, "I do not propose to be blocked, sidetracked or diverted by any Senator or group of Senators."

MAN FACES ACCUSER IN DEATH PLOT

Postmaster Downs Taken from Hotel; Questioned in Dynamite Murder

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SANTA BARBARA, April 9.—The crucial moment in the investigation of the slaying of John J. McGuire arrived tonight when Will H. Downs, postmaster of Los Olivos, faced two other suspects, one of whom is declared to have confessed knowledge of the mid-night dynamiting of McGuire's shack last December.

Downs was taken early this morning from a locked room in the fashionable Hotel Fausling where, it is declared he had hidden under an assumed name for three days.

Downs is in custody of a number of men who have been grilled by the district attorney aided by the "dynamite" imported especially for the occasion from Los Angeles. One of them, Harvey Gray, a machinist, has confessed and has implicated Downs, it is declared. The other is A. T. Crawford, a newsboy, a flaxen-haired, blue-eyed Pennsylvanian, is said to have confessed that Downs laid the dynamite bomb beneath McGuire's house and then drove to a midnight rendezvous in Hollywood, and that Crawford, on a convenient midnight, touched the glowing end of a cigar to a fuse laid fifty feet from McGuire's shack.

Newsboy, gray-haired, lean in bearing, with heavy black eyebrows, is declared to swear he will have him there by a neighbor in trouble. In the same breath, it is said, he refuses to deny his knowledge of the killing.

SURPRISE TO WATSON

The Heney employment resolution landed on the committee table like a bombshell, so far as Senator Watson was concerned. He bluntly declared that he knew Heney "well enough" to know that the hearing would be turned into a muckracking "if Heney was given a chance."

Senator Couzens admitted that he had "assented" from the first to the appointment of four members of the busy Finance Committee to compose the investigating committee with himself. He left the

BROWS KNT IN GERMANY

Government Heads Fear to Reject Dawes's Plan, But Experts' Report is Extremely Bitter Pill

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BERLIN, April 9.—The German government will think carefully before it acts on the provisions of the Dawes committee's report made public in Paris today. In the face of the solemn warning contained in Brig.-Gen. Charles G. Dawes's letter, Foreign Minister Stresemann and his co-workers will consider seriously the consequences of their action before they tell the Reparations Commission that the experts have asked terms which Germany cannot fulfill.

The report in certain of its aspects is a bitter disappointment to German official circles. Industrialist leaders are united in declaring that the document is entirely unacceptable since they have been given their choice only of acceptance or rejection without alteration, but also by leaders regard it as a shameful attack on German sovereignty.

But the German government itself recognized in the Dawes committee's work the first business-like estimates of Germany's ability to pay which has been made since the armistice. It looks on the report with the absolute knowledge that it contains the best possible terms that Germany will be offered and that refusal to accept it will meet with the disapproval not only of France, but of England, America, Italy as well.

So far as the reparations question is concerned, Germany has been in a matter first for the Reparations Commission to accept or reject the reports.

It was gathered, however, that apart from the figures on Germany's indebtedness, which can be discussed only by the experts, the British are pleased with the insula-

PARIS, April 9.—Brig. Gen.

Charles G. Dawes, unofficial American representative on the first committee which examined into the economic and financial situation in Germany, in a governing letter to the Reparations Commission, said the committee's recommendations

"must be considered not as inflicting penalties, but as suggesting means for assisting the economic recovery of all European peoples and the entry upon a new period of happiness and prosperity un-

The covering letter of Gen. Dawes reads:

"To the President of the Reparations Commission:

"Your committee has unanimously adopted a report upon the means for balancing the German budget and the measures to be taken to stabilize its currency which I now have the honor to submit.

"Deeply impressed by a sense of its responsibility to your commission and to the universal cause of peace, the committee bases its plan upon those principles of justice, fairness and mutual interest in the supremacy of which not only the creditors of Germany and Germany itself but the world also have a vital and enduring concern."

"In speaking of free agents," the committee says, "we mean those who are free to make their own decisions and to be held responsible for the results of their actions. This is the principle of the free agents."

GIST OF REPARATION REPORT

Experts' Committee Present Findings Purely on Economic Basis, Without Considering Political Questions; Recovery of German Debt is Primary Motive

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

PARIS, April 9.—An official summary of part one of the report of the first committee of experts follows:

(1) The attitude of the committee.

(a) The standpoint adopted has been that of business and not political considerations.

(b) Political factors have been considered only in so far as they affect the practicability of the plan.

(c) The recovery of the debt, not the imposition of penalties, has been sought.

(d) The payment of that debt by Germany is her necessary contribution to repairing the damage done to the world.

and goes into various details regarding the currency, the finances, budget making and the imposition of taxes and means of collection and distribution of the same.

The committee points out that when it took up its task the German currency was in a state of complete chaos. It was called stabilized, but was rather in what might be called a state of "stabilized chaos."

Measured by gold value, the currency was deficient in volume rather than excessive, being only about half the pre-war volume, and to meet this there had been resort to various devices as substitutes, namely the use of foreign currencies, token money, and ultimately the establishment of the Rentenmark.

As regards the temporary equilibrium the currency has reached, the committee found the psychological aspect to have played an important part, notably by reason of the payment of the sum charged against the reparations in Part I of the report.

The committee found the psychological aspect to have played an important part, notably by reason of the payment of the sum charged against the reparations in Part I of the report.

ONE COMMISSIONER

The report proposes one commissioner to supervise the collection of revenues of Germany under the plan, the tobacco, alcohol, sugar and beer taxes, and of the customs revenue as security for the payment of the sum charged against the reparations in Part I of the report.

The commissioner, it says, would have from a subcommittee for each of the five controlled revenues. The selection of the chief commissioner is left to the Reparations Commission.

DEARTH OF CAPITAL

The prevailing conditions, the committee found, had produced a dearth of liquid capital, but there were resources which might be remedied—for instance, the German balance abroad and the foreign currency held by the people—resources which would be available if there were confidence in the currency. In addition, the committee found the establishment of which was necessary to restore German banking and currency. The committee found the establishment of which was necessary to restore German banking and currency.

SECOND GROUP

PARIS, April 9.—An official summary of the report of the second committee of experts follows:

Preamble: The committee is to consider the means of estimating the amount of German reparations capital and of bringing it back to Germany, held by foreign countries and banks, and of making it available to the German people.

BUDGET EXPLAINED

Taking up the subject of the budget of 1924-25, the committee found that it was in a state of complete chaos. It was called stabilized, but was rather in what might be called a state of "stabilized chaos."

PAYMENT PLAN

(1) Summary of provision for reparations:

(a) Budget moratorium period: First year from foreign loans and part interest on railway bonds, there will be a total of 1,000,000,000 marks.

NEW BANK PLAN

(a) All classes will benefit from stabilized currency, especially labor.

(b) Under present conditions, rentmark stability is only temporary.

(c) A new bank is set up on a basis stable in relation to the Reichsmark reorganized:

NOT ENOUGH TAX

Regarding taxation, the report finds the income tax insufficient as bearing upon the wealthier classes, who have escaped with a minimum of their share of the national burden, and reinsurance, by Germany, that the amount of tax is not enough to meet the needs of the state.

GUARANTEE TOLD

(14) Guarantees in Addition to Railway and Industrial Bonds.

(a) The following revenues are pledged for a continuation of collateral security: (1) Tobacco; (2) Beer; (3) Sugar; (4) The yield of this sort of revenues is estimated to be substantially in excess of required payments.

ANNUAL BURDEN

(8) The basic principle of Germany's annual burden.

(a) Treaty obligations and continuity of balanced budgets. (1) Balancing the budget does not entail merely provision for internal administrative expenditure. (2) Germany must also pay within the utmost limit her capacity for her extended treaty obligations. (3) The budget can be balanced without necessarily dealing with the total capital debt of Germany. (4) It cannot be continuously balanced unless the annual charge is fixed for a considerable period on a basis clearly prescribed in advance.

NO MONOPOLY

The report then takes up the consideration of the various of the committee. It says there should be no tobacco monopoly, but that the free manufacture of tobacco should only continue under suitable regulations, which the committee defines. These include the supervision of all tobacco establishments and the formation by the remaining existing manufacturers of a consortium to be made to Germany's creditors; (2) to take the question of what Germany can pay out of the field of practical demonstration; (3) to fasten a final and comprehensive agreement upon all the problems of the reparations committee's questions as soon as circumstances make this possible.

PART TWO OF PLAN

Part two of the Dawes committee's report deals with the conditions the experts found confronting Germany in the field of work; gives the reasons which led them to some of their conclusions.

foreign holdings as of December 31, 1923:

(a) Assets abroad in 1914 belonging to German nationals residing in Germany estimated at 25 milliard gold marks.

(b) The war period. (1) Depreciation of German assets abroad; nonpayment of interest due and liquidation and sequestration of German assets abroad; approximately 16.1 milliard gold marks; (2) During the war profits and exploitation of Belgium, Northern France, Poland, Lithuania and Rumania approximated 7 to 8 milliard gold marks, and the sale of German securities aggregated approximately 2 milliard gold marks.

TRADE DEFICIT

(c) Post war period: (1) Principal causes of reduction; deficit in Germany's trade balance, and the meeting of cash payments to the Allies under the Treaty of Versailles caused a reduction of between 9 and 10 milliard gold marks. Earnings from German shipping, insurance, etc., greatly reduced; (2) Principal causes of increased assets: (a) sales of mark credit in foreign countries; (b) sale of German real property and securities to foreigners; (c) sale of German real property and securities to foreigners; (d) sale of German real property and securities to foreigners.

FOREIGN HOLDINGS

(e) It must be remembered that foreigners hold property in Germany which has a counterbalancing effect and the committee estimates the value of such property as from 1 to 1 1/2 milliard gold marks.

(f) In addition to the foregoing, foreign currency now in Germany amounts to 1,200,000,000 gold marks.

MONEY TO RETURN

(d) The committee knows the conclusions of the first committee of experts and it is given to their recommendations by thinking that a considerable part of German assets abroad will return to the ordinary course of trade.

(e) Austria is a case in point where under a stabilized currency the necessities of trade bring back a considerable part of the foreign holdings.

Manual Arts Athlete Clips Half Second From Low Hurdle Mark in City League Trial Heats

BY BRAVEN DYER

Clipping a half second from the 220-yard low-hurdle record, De Wolf Requa, long-legged Manual Arts stick jumper, was easily the outstanding star of the special elimination heats staged yesterday at the Coliseum preparatory to the City League track and field meet scheduled for Saturday afternoon. The Toller athlete covered the distance in 25 1/2 seconds, the old mark of 25 7/8 seconds having been made by Burgard of Hollywood last season. This is the second time in a week that Requa has broken his own record.

Three favorites came home first in the 100-yard dash in which Requa was the only one to break the 10-second mark. Vic Klein, star of Hollywood, was second in 10 1/2 seconds, while Billelo of Lincoln was third in 11 1/2 seconds.

Requa's performance in the hurdles was a masterpiece. He cleared them with ease, and his time was a record for the City League.

OXY ATHLETES GO EAST

Tiger Runners Will Compete in Kansas and Quaker Relay Carnivals This Month

Ten athletes, Coach Joe Pipal and Trainer Pete Poole will represent Occidental College in the University of Kansas and the University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnivals this month. This is the biggest and most imposing delegation of athletes that ever competed from Southern California on the east coast. The team will leave for the East at the first of next week, competing at Lawrence, Kan., against the pick of the Middle West college athletes on the 19th inst., and performing at Philadelphia against runners from all over the world on April 25 and 26.

The squad, which includes all of the best of the championship track track team, consists of Cliff Argue, Phil Buckman and Bud Nash, sprinters; Capt. Phil Ellsworth, Johnny Powers, Tony Spangler, Herb Morey, "Smallpox" Montgomery and Nick Carter, middle-distance men; and Roy Goodenough, pole vaulter. They will compete in the open sprint, broad jumping and pole vault events and in relay races from the four-man 440-yard event up to the four-man two-mile and medley events.

Argue is regarded as the star of the squad, having turned in the fastest 100-yard dash time made in competition this season. He has been clocked twice at 8.8s, and on neither occasion was more than six inches ahead of his team-mate, Buckman. Nash is consistent at 10s, and is a former prep broad-jumping champion. These sprinters will compete against Eric Liddell of the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, and the pick of eastern sprinters at the Penn relays.

The quarter-mile team holds the Southern California Conference record of 2m., 23.8s., while Carter, Ellsworth, Montgomery, Morey and Powers have all been clocked at 2.01 or better for the half-mile. Goodenough is joint holder of the Southern California Conference pole vault mark of 12ft., 5 1/2 in. and is expected to better this mark when he competes for a pulled leg muscle.

Nothing sensational about the high hurdles, Requa and Cain, the latter of L. A. High, being content to merely keep ahead of their rivals in each heat. Requa's time was the best, the watches catching him at 16.2 seconds, while the Pioneer cut the tape sixteenth of a second slower.

WOMEN REACH SEMIFINALS

Two Interesting Matches Scheduled Today in Play for State Golf Title at Brentwood

BY CHARLES WEST

It looks very much as though Miss Doreen Kavanagh is on her way to her fourth State golf championship from the way she played yesterday in eliminating Miss Florence Halloran of Salt Lake, 3 and 2, at the Brentwood Country Club. She exhibited such consistently good golf that she is a top-heavy favorite to win from Miss Martha Kinsey today in the semifinals, although Miss Kinsey played splendidly in defeating Miss Margaret Cameron 3 and 1 yesterday.

The semifinal match brings into competition Miss Mary Browne, medalist in the championship event, and Miss Kathleen Wright of the Pasadena Golf Club. Miss Browne being expected to come through with a victory because of the sensational variety of golf she has displayed throughout the tournament. Yesterday she submerged Mrs. John Clark, 8 to 6, while Miss Wright was having something of a battle on her hands in eliminating Mrs. D. D. Jones 3 to 1.

The quarter-mile team holds the Southern California Conference record of 2m., 23.8s., while Carter, Ellsworth, Montgomery, Morey and Powers have all been clocked at 2.01 or better for the half-mile. Goodenough is joint holder of the Southern California Conference pole vault mark of 12ft., 5 1/2 in. and is expected to better this mark when he competes for a pulled leg muscle.

Nothing sensational about the high hurdles, Requa and Cain, the latter of L. A. High, being content to merely keep ahead of their rivals in each heat. Requa's time was the best, the watches catching him at 16.2 seconds, while the Pioneer cut the tape sixteenth of a second slower.

Hoppe Takes Second Block in Hollow Style

Horemans Now Far Behind Billiard Wizard

Deciding Game is Scheduled for This Evening

NEW YORK, April 9.—

Stroking with perfect precision and accuracy, Willie Hoppe, world's 18.2 balkline champion, assumed a commanding lead over his Belgian challenger, Edouard Horemans tonight by winning the second block of the title match, 500 to 16. The champion now has a lead of 1000 to 440 with but one more block to play.

Hoppe's victory tonight was one of the most outstanding features in the history of the game. The challenge was badly off form, scoring in only five innings, and not once during the evening having the balls together.

Hoppe finished his block with an unfinished run of 48, leaving the balls in good position for the resumption of play tomorrow night. The score by innings:

WILBUR MAKES CONGRESS BOW

Takes Sides Against Cabinet Men on War Bill

Opposes Plan for Mobilizing Nation's Resources

Says Such Presidential Power Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Action to give the President unlimited powers to mobilize the nation's economic resources in time of war was advocated before the House Military Committee today by two cabinet officers and an Assistant Secretary, but they expressed differing views as to how it should be done.

Secretary Hoover favored legislation by Congress, but Secretary Wilbur, making his first appearance before a Congressional committee, said he believed a constitutional amendment would be necessary.

Secretary Wilbur said the "distinction between blood and money is not a wise one" in the event of a national emergency, but added that "neither Congress nor the executive departments should have authority to encroach on the rights of citizenship."

"It seems to me," said the Naval Secretary, "we ought to be very careful not to overlook the fact that acts which destroy liberty during war may destroy the government itself."

WARNS OF DICTATORSHIP

He cautioned against giving the Executive authority which might result in a dictatorship, and pointed out that Congress could go only so far without a constitutional amendment. He "realized the growing feeling of regard to war," he said, and suggested that a man could not be forced to work on construction of a battleship or a merchant ship, for example, without amending the Constitution.

Secretary Hoover endorsed the principle embodied in the pending McNair bill. He said in war it was necessary to have full powers invested in some one and he favored enforcing severe penalties on industries violating "moral responsibilities." His experience in the last war, he said, would make acceptable to him practically any legislation along the lines of the bill.

Assistant Secretary Davis also favored the measure.

CHANCE TO LEARN LINTYPE TRADE

Lintyping is one of the best-paid trades. It is easily learned by the average man or woman. There is a great scarcity of lintypers throughout the United States. For price of tuition and other information, inquire at 419 Wilcox Building or telephone 885-287.

SISTERS IN THIRD FIGHT OVER CHILD

Mother of Little Girl to Seek Guardianship Now Held by Kin

The struggle between two sisters, one the mother and the other the adopted mother of a 6-year-old June Shosted, will get into court for the third time tomorrow when Mrs. Lola Pollan, wife of a Pittsburgh Army aviator, and her sister, an outstanding child of expected testimony at the trial will be regarding Frank Milton, officially reported as slain in action at Chateau Thierry, who is asserted by the adopted mother to be living.

Milton has been the subject of a strange story of an engagement between two sisters which has led them to tell directly opposite stories about the birth of the little girl, the object of their fight.

Mrs. Pollan's first attempt to regain custody of her child was made at Duluth and failed. An attempt in Los Angeles several months ago also was unsuccessful. Mrs. Pollan now claims that she is better able to rear a child than the foster-mother. She will be represented by Attorney J. C. Miles. Attorney Ruth Anderson and Will H. Anderson will represent Mrs. Shosted.

FOSSILIZED SEA SPECIMENS GATHERED UP IN INTERIOR NEAR LUMBER CAMP

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NELSON (B. C.) April 9.—An interesting find is reported from Warden, in the Crown West Pass district of British Columbia, 150 miles east of here. Provincial Constables Thomas and Ryckman, who were visiting the camps on departmental business, coming upon some curious stones in a bank of shale near Camp No. 8 of the Crown West Pass Lumber Company. Constable Thomas pried loose and took away with him some perfectly preserved specimens of fossilized sea shells of immense size. He reports the beds are extensive. The shale deposits, he states, are easily reached from the camp, which is three miles north of Bull River. The Crown West Pass Lumber Company logging railway runs directly through the beds, and is ballasted for some distance with material rich in fossil shells.

Lieut.-Col. J. Hungerford Polten of Cranbrook, Canadian Pacific Railway colonization officer, has received two of the largest specimens, and is of opinion that they represent the Devonian period. He is photographing them for submission to the geological department of British Columbia University for identification.

COOLIDGE VOTE STILL MOUNTING

Reports from 3299 precincts gave him 111,865 and Brown 64,444. William McKinley, who ran second to Col. A. A. Sprague for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, conceded his defeat and sent a message to Sprague pledging him his support.

NEBRASKA LEAD GROWS

OMAHA (Neb.) April 9.—President Coolidge's smashing victory in Nebraska was accentuated as the final returns from Tuesday's primary came in late today. As the tabulation on this drew to a close, reports from 1874 precincts out of the 1936 in the State gave him 71,018 against 41,491 for Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

United States Senator George W. Norris defeated Charles H. Sloan, former Representative, by 64,523 to 28,902 on returns from 1884 precincts.

Was hailed by the supporters of Senator Johnson as a repudiation of Coolidge despite the result of the Presidential preference vote. They asserted that it definitely settled the "old game" in Nebraska.

In rejoinder the Coolidge managers merely quoted the figures on yesterday's vote.

DEMOCRAT RACE CLOSE

A close contest developed for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, with Kenneth W. McDonough of Bridgeport hanging doggedly at the heels of John J. Thomas of Seward. With two-thirds of the state heard from, Thomas was leading by 1700 in the race to see who would oppose Senator Norris at the November polls.

A gubernatorial candidate will be Gov. Charles W. Bryan, Democrat, and Adam McMullen, a banker of Omaha, Republican. Gov. Bryan defeated Charles Graft, his only opponent, by better than four to one, but Mr. McMullen did not draw to a safe distance away from Albert N. Mathers of Gering in the counting.

THANKS SUPPORTERS

OMAHA (Neb.) April 9.—President Coolidge, responding late today to a telegram from Ross L. Shotwell of Omaha, State organizer for the Coolidge League of Nebraska, which informed the President that his victory over Hiram Johnson in the Nebraska Presidential primaries was conceded by the Johnson forces, expressed himself as "deeply grateful" to his friends in Nebraska, and asked that his thanks be extended to all his supporters.

INCREASE IN MICHIGAN

DETROIT, April 9.—President Coolidge and Henry Ford held their first joint press conference as belated returns from the Michigan primary election Monday came in today.

With 2283 of the State's 2890 precincts heard from, the President had more than a two-to-one advantage. The vote was: Coolidge 185,946; Hiram W. Johnson, 81,285; Charles F. Smith, 1940.

On the Democratic side, Henry Ford had a lead of slightly more than 3000 over Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris, with 2232 precincts reported. The vote was: Ford 34,485; Ferris 31,297.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION VOTE FRIDAY

Hiram Johnson Finally Returns and Takes Up Senate Fight for Ban

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Senate failed again today to reach a vote on the question of Japanese exclusion, one of the two big fighting points in the immigration bill.

After four hours of debate, it was announced that the measure would be laid aside tomorrow for the consideration of the Norris super-power bill and the Independent office appropriation bill.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, who has charge of the Immigration bill, hopes to dispose of the Japanese question Friday and get a vote on the basis for the percentage quotas before the end of the week.

Several of the speakers today, including Senator Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, declared in favor of "origin of nationalities" represented in the country's population as of the census of 1920 as the basis for the quotas.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who returned to Washington today from a campaign trip, led the fight for the Japanese exclusion amendment act and was supported by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, and other Senators.

NO SLOWING IN COOLIDGE FIGHT HERE

Victories Elsewhere and Johnson's Plans Not to Affect Campaign

Expressing gratification for the victory of President Coolidge over Senator Hiram Johnson in Republican primaries in Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska, but urging California Republicans to give the President a maximum vote of confidence regardless of the outcome of reported plans of Senator Johnson to retire from the Presidential race, Frank P. Merriam, chairman of the Southern California Coolidge Campaign Committee, yesterday asserted that Coolidge victories elsewhere would result in redoubled efforts here in the President's behalf.

Mr. Merriam's comment on the political situation follows:

"The tremendous victories of President Coolidge in Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska are most gratifying to the President's supporters in California and undoubtedly will encourage redoubled effort in his behalf in this State."

"The President has already received endorsement from a sufficient number of widely separated States to indicate the overwhelming approval accorded his candidacy by the nation."

It now behooves the Republicans of California to show the same degree of Republican loyalty and solidarity as shown by the Republicans of Michigan, Illinois, Nebraska and more than a score of other States whose primaries and party conventions have given Mr. Coolidge their undivided support.

"Relative to apparently authoritative reports that the opposition is prepared to concede defeat and to retire from the contest, I can only express a conviction that this action, should it occur, must result in a reduction of the vote of confidence which California Republicans should give the President and his administration."

WIFE OF ASSERTED FRUGAL MATE WINS

DECREES ALIMONY AND FEE FOR ATTORNEY GIVEN IN HOT CONTENT

Mrs. Ona E. Lane, who charged her asserted wealthy husband with being too frugal in providing her with funds for household expenses, yesterday was awarded a divorce by Judge Burks from Percy A. Lane. Granting of the decree marked the conclusion of a hotly contested case which Judge Burks took under advisement January 8, last.

Mrs. Lane testified at the trial of the case that her husband failed to provide her with money with which to purchase sugar for their table and matches for the kitchen. Lane, in a cross-complaint to the suit, accused his wife of cruelty.

Judge Burks also awarded Mrs. Lane alimony of $2000 a year and $1000 attorneys' fees.

Keep Safely Above the Danger Line In Choosing a Piano!

REMEMBER, quality cannot be where price is TOO low! It is false economy that tempts one to buy an inferior piano for the sake of a few dollars. It is the part of wisdom to make selection where you have choice of only fine piano names—not one, but many of them! Let the firm who guarantees every piano it sells, serve you! Practice safe and sane economy by buying where you KNOW price is the lowest consistent with quality. Barker Bros. have, through forty-two years of service, built and maintained a reputation that embodies these principles.

JAPANESE SHY AT ARMY LIFE

Officials Worried by Drop in Enrollment

Physical Standards Raised by Athletics

Boys and Girls Admitted to Exercises

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TOKIO, April 9.—The army as a career for the young men of Japan is rapidly losing the attractions it once possessed and the military authorities are said to be much worried over a marked decrease in the number of young men to be examined for service this year. Figures compiled by the recruiting officials show that the number of young men eligible for examination shows a decrease of more than 20,000 over a normal year.

Opinions differ as to the cause of this decrease. Some put it down to the earthquake, but against this stands the fact that the larger majority of those who perished in the disaster were women, old men and children. Others believe that the influence of the European war has caused the young men to turn away from a study of the science of slaughter, but this, say others again, will not be apparent till a few more years have run their course.

Despite the decrease in the number of men of service age this year, the military authorities say that a more hopeful sign is that the physical condition of those examined is above the average of the last few years, due, in large measure no doubt, to the effects of baseball and football to which the younger generation have taken with avidity. The military authorities declare that the quality they possess more than compensates for the reduction in the number.

With the object of popularizing the army an unprecedented innovation was recently made when boys and girls of primary schools and members of young men's and children's associations took part in the exercises staged by the Bodyguards Division and the First Division, two of the crack regiments of the Imperial Japanese army. The object, declared the military authorities, was "to make the people see that the army was theirs, and not of a particular caste or clan."

In addition to sham battles there were aerobatics, parachute descents, calisthenics, war song singing, hockey, wrestling and Rugby matches.

TURKESTAN TURNING ON RED RULERS

Czarist Officers Leading Revolt With Mohammedan Solidarity Active

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, April 9.—Turkmen and surrounding districts have revolted against Russian Bolshevik rule, according to a dispatch to the London Daily Mail from its Riga correspondent this morning. Portions of the province of Ferghana have been captured by the revolting troops and the populace.

About 20,000 cavalry, several companies of mounted artillery and masses of troops and irregulars are spreading terror among the handful of Communists who are governing this Mohammedan "autonomous republic" for soviet Russia.

The city of Khiva is threatened by troops, most of whom are fanatical Mohammedans. The revolt is being led by Czarist officers. The soviet government is rushing large detachments of the Red army to Turkestan.

A member of the Bolshevik legion at Riga asserts that Great Britain is responsible for the present critical situation as "British influence from Persia forms the basis of the revolt."

Love Pacts Top Suicide Column in Tokio Deaths

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TOKIO, April 9.—Suicides due to unrequited love or to parents forbidding unions between a lover and his lass lead in the list of suicide statistics just compiled by the Tokio Metropolitan Police, with the idea of ascertaining to what extent the catastrophe of September 1 affected the nerves of the inhabitants of the capital. Suicides caused by despondency over material losses sustained rank next, but in this case time has borne healing on its wings and the number of persons seeking self-destruction from this cause has been growing gradually smaller and smaller.

Since the September earthquake there have been no less than 419 cases of suicide, mostly of young persons, 193 of whom were women. The most-used methods were the rope, poison and getting in the way of an oncoming railway train. The suicides committed as a result of disappointment in love affairs were mostly double suicides.

"None whatever," Mr. Miller replied. Nor did he ever talk of leaves, governmental, or otherwise, with Hamon.

As to Monday's witness, Mr. French, he has never met him. But he did recall that Hamon told him, as he told French, that Mrs. Hamon was "importuning" him to go over to Harding, to whom she was related. "It was pretty much a poverty campaign all the way through," was one of the historic sidelights Mr. Miller threw on the maneuvers which made Warren Harding President of the United States.

And then came long, sad, quaint, conscientious old Farmer Julius Baughn, now of Texas, formerly of Oklahoma and Jake Hamon's friend for twenty years. He had a side line of oil land and used to dicker with Jake about developing it. Also, they would talk of politics while they were out in the fields, and one day just after the 1920 Republican National Convention, Neighbor Baughn said to Neighbor Hamon, "what are you doing in politics, Jake?"

"I have my motives," Jake replied, "and the first of them is to carry Oklahoma for the Republican ticket."

"You can't do it, Jake," said Neighbor Baughn. "It costs me a million dollars." And then he volunteered this: "I signed a check that nominated Harding for President."

So the simple old farmer swore Jake had said.

It is all the most curious and contradictory testimony I ever heard in a court or a committee. Next Friday we are to have the former Mrs. Jake Hamon as witness concerning that Congress Hotel check, and possibly Theodore Roosevelt.

Also Senator Walsh has leveled on Secretary of the Interior Work for maps and data on naval reserve oil field, No. 2, at Buena Vista, Cal., which has not yet come conspicuously into the scandal.

Even with this new line opening up the Teapot Dome experts expect to finish their investigation this week.

Representatives of broadcasters appearing in support of the bill of Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, which would relieve them from payment of copyright dues on broadcast music, laid down an initial barrage in the form of arguments that their stations served the public both as an instructive and entertaining agency, invariably without cost.

Opponents of the proposed legislation will respond next Thursday with the charges that the measure would vitiate the protection given by copyright and to that extent is confiscation of property.

TRAIL OF HAMON GOLD IS ELUSIVE

Senators Unable to Verify Tales Laid to Dead Man

Story of Harding Hotel Bill Payment Branded False

Committee Hears Another One from Texas Farmer

(BY J. O'DONNELL BENNETT)
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Either the late Jake Hamon was the most colossal yarker since Baron Munchausen or there was an extraordinarily slick system for getting campaign contributions into the Republican war chest and out again without human intervention.

That Hamon did give away a great deal of money to party political dreams come true is firmly believed in Oklahoma among both business and political magnates. But nobody seems ever to have seen that money, or received it, or receipted for it, or expended it. William H. Miller, for example, a dignified, forthright-speaking man, who was once assistant Attorney-General of Ohio, declared under oath to the Senatorial oil committee today that Jake Hamon never gave him a check for $25,000 to pay the Congress Hotel, Chicago, bill of $18,700 for Warren Harding's campaign headquarters during the 1920 Republican National Convention. And yet it was only day before yesterday that J. H. French, also dignified and forthright-speaking, declared under oath to the Senatorial investigating committee that Hamon, in a long and intimate business deal, did tell him that he gave Mr. Miller a check for that amount and for that purpose, Jake adding, said the witness, "we had to be good to 'Burr' Miller."

The testimony of this Mr. French, who was Hamon's business partner and, as he put it, "A Texas Democrat, thank God," was read in sepulchral tones by Senator Stanford, Republican, Oregon, to Mr. Miller, and he, far from being overjoyed by the recital, said in decisive but not showy tones when it was finished:

"Regardless of the origin of that statement, it is untrue." Mr. Miller lives in Columbus, O. He was a willing and far-traveling Harding-Daugherty missionary in the Harding pre-convention campaign of 1920 and was a delegate to the national convention. He said that his part in the Harding booster was to visit the Middle West and Northwest States "to establish friendly relations with the leaders, and the newspapers."

Hamon was then for Lowden and Mr. Miller did not talk party finance with him. "That was all in the hands of Mr. Daugherty," said the witness.

"You had no part, then, in raising funds?"

"None whatever," Mr. Miller replied. Nor did he ever talk of leaves, governmental, or otherwise, with Hamon.

As to Monday's witness, Mr. French, he has never met him. But he did recall that Hamon told him, as he told French, that Mrs. Hamon was "importuning" him to go over to Harding, to whom she was related. "It was pretty much a poverty campaign all the way through," was one of the historic sidelights Mr. Miller threw on the maneuvers which made Warren Harding President of the United States.

And then came long, sad, quaint, conscientious old Farmer Julius Baughn, now of Texas, formerly of Oklahoma and Jake Hamon's friend for twenty years. He had a side line of oil land and used to dicker with Jake about developing it. Also, they would talk of politics while they were out in the fields, and one day just after the 1920 Republican National Convention, Neighbor Baughn said to Neighbor Hamon, "what are you doing in politics, Jake?"

"I have my motives," Jake replied, "and the first of them is to carry Oklahoma for the Republican ticket."

"You can't do it, Jake," said Neighbor Baughn. "It costs me a million dollars." And then he volunteered this: "I signed a check that nominated Harding for President."

So the simple old farmer swore Jake had said.

It is all the most curious and contradictory testimony I ever heard in a court or a committee. Next Friday we are to have the former Mrs. Jake Hamon as witness concerning that Congress Hotel check, and possibly Theodore Roosevelt.

THE SCIENCE OF THERAPEUTICAL PRECISION
No Drugs—No Manipulation—No Surgery

Spectro-Chrome Therapy is receiving everywhere recognition of prominent surgeons, physicians, osteopaths, dentists, etc., owing to its unerring precise scientific methods, which absolutely dispense with the inherent complications of other systems. It is the most wonderful, accurate, sensible and simple healing art, which, wherever presented, has revolutionized existing conceptions of human disorders and their treatment.

This is the second visit here of its distinguished originator. During his previous visit in January, 1924, his independent, featureless examination created a stir among followers of orthodox systems, and the Journal of American Medical Association attacked him. Dinshah promptly requested the editor to send seven representatives for impartial investigation at the expense of Spectro-Chrome Institute, but his request was ignored. Recently Henry Ford's newspaper, The Dearborn Independent, started libelous attack on Dinshah. In his discourse here Dinshah will give his own reply by submitting the facts to the judgment of the American public.

THE COOLIDGE TRIUMPH

The outstanding political fact of the year is beyond question the growing triumph of Calvin Coolidge. He is prevailing officially against extraordinary difficulties inherited by his administration. He is prevailing personally in the hearts and minds of his countrymen.

His success has been neither sensational nor swift. It has been a steady, silent progress, his absence of boast, his patient search for the right solution, the right man. Triumph, perhaps, suggests too sudden a victory to accord with the facts. Yet today surely marks the culmination of an immensely impressive series of events, recording a notable administrative achievement and an extraordinary popular success. In eight short months, in the year of a Presidential election, against the bitterest partisan attack in a generation, he has gained the complete confidence of the American people. There are few comparable successes in American history.

HELPS EUROPE

What is happening in Europe is quite as much his accomplishment as is the personal tribute of the Illinois primaries. The selection of Gen. Dawes and Mr. Young was one of those master strokes of administrative judgment that are the essence of Coolidge's leadership. These two Americans bore no governmental credentials. They represented American common sense alone. Upon the selection of the right men, therefore, entirely depended the success or failure of the mission. The faith of the people in the President has been abundantly justified by the labor and the rescue of Europe from economic disaster.

It is upon the character of the President that this trust has been built. No one achievement and no one quality have won this faith. In a period of isolated corruption and general hysteria he has stood a figure of utter integrity and unflinching courage. He has not attempted either dramatic strokes or brilliant words. He has simply stood fast and labored with the last ounce of his ability and energy. His entire record has been as unexceptional as is his habitual manner. Yet his very poise, his unshaken resolve to reach a right decision before acting, let his critics shrill as they might, has had its dramatic appeal.

GREAT SUCCESS

The rank and file of the Americans have already shown by their votes how heartily they like Calvin Coolidge. His successes in the Republican primaries have gone beyond the most optimistic expectations. Carrying North Dakota, the center of wheat failure, agrarian unrest and populist sentiment, was an extraordinary triumph. His two to one victory over Senator Johnson in Michigan, a strongly progressive State, confirmed the view that progressive Republicans saw in him a man of their own hopes. Maine and Rhode Island instructed their entire delegations an exceptional tribute in each case. South Dakota was barely saved for Johnson despite a desperate campaign. Now Illinois has given the President an unmistakable endorsement.

There has not been for months doubt of Mr. Coolidge's nomination. His election is fast becoming an equal certainty. The Johnson candidacy has been hopelessly beaten. The movement toward a third party has been halted and is retreating. The tide of Coolidge sentiment that is rising in the country is one of the most impressive tributes to a President that American politics records. It is a credit to the sense and judgment of the American people—and it is richly deserved.

BUILDING IN NATION WILL BEAT MARKS

Unprecedented Activity Is Indicated by Permits; Los Angeles Ranks Third

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

CHICAGO, April 9.—Unprecedented building activity throughout the United States is pending, official building-permit reports from 311 cities indicate. S. W. Straus & Co. said in a statement tonight showing a total of $430,467,660 for the month of March. This is a gain of 2 per cent over last March, when permits increased 60 per cent over March 1923, breaking the record for any previous March in the history of the country. The report said the survey also shows a new record for the first quarter of the year, the 311 cities reporting permits amounting to $1,245,000, a gain over the first quarter of 1923 of 8 1/2 per cent. Of the twenty-five cities in the country showing the greatest volume of permits in March, the survey stated that eighteen showed gains and seven losses.

While New York led the country with a gain for the quarter of $27,969,000, Chicago showed a loss of $17,969,000, although a gain for March of $8,000,000 was reported.

Los Angeles, Detroit, Boston, Rochester, Baltimore, San Francisco, Dallas, Buffalo, Memphis and Long Beach, Cal., were among cities reporting large gains for the quarter.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Effective Friday, passengers on trains entering Arizona from California must submit to immigration at their Arizona destination. If they are through passengers they will not be allowed to leave the train. All tickets sold to Arizona points are with the above provision.

Life Companies Do Half Billion California Business in 1923

California is one of the six greatest life insurance States of the Union. Figures which have just been published from sworn statements on file with the State Insurance Department show that during 1923 the people of California took out new policies amounting to half a billion dollars, divided among sixty-five companies.

Western States Life, not yet fourteen years old, placed insurance on the lives of more Californians last year than any of fifty-nine of these companies. Only five companies, less than 10% of the total, led us—the youngest of the five was established in business thirty-five years before we were born, and today their average age is over 60 years. Of all the companies operating in the State, old and young, large and small, NINETENTHS finished behind us in the number of California people insured during 1923.

This showing proves the progress of our Company under keenly competitive conditions close at home, where people are directly in touch with all details of our record and management. Business for 1924 to date is pouring in through our Home and Branch Offices at a speed which promises to eclipse all our former records. Our new insurance for the first three months of 1924 is over 55% in excess of the same period of 1923, which was the best year in our entire history to date.

The rapid and substantial growth in our business is being brought about by our new 1924 Complete Protection Coupon Savings Policy, which makes perfect provision for FAMILY, BUSINESS and OLD AGE. A postcard will bring you a sample policy and other interesting information, with no obligation to you.

STATE BANK CALL

Los Angeles Financial Institutions Report Deposit Increase of 15 Per Cent Over Year Ago

Successful resistance to seasonal influences is emphasized in the statements of the thirty State and national banks within the city limits of Los Angeles for March 31, 1924, the combined reports showing total deposits of $846,344,076.93, an increase of 15.1 per cent over December 31, 1923. Compared to April 3, 1923, deposits indicate the satisfactory gain of 15 per cent, which is irrefutable testimony of the ability of the banks to progress despite such blows to business confidence as a drought and the foot-and-mouth disease.

The separate reports of the State and national banks point toward one new development in Los Angeles banking. The twenty State banks, which compiled their statements yesterday in obedience to the call from State Superintendent of Banking J. F. Johnson, show the appreciable gain of 21 per cent in deposits over December 31, 1923, while the national banks reported a decrease of 7.1 per cent. Although there are three new State banks since the first of the year, the inference is that the State institutions are either growing at the expense of the nationals, or are more successful in obtaining new business.

Loans and discounts of the State banks were reported at $526,358,927.20, which represents an increase of 1 per cent over December 31, 1923. Available cash advanced slightly over December 31, the total of $112,936,861.81, running $481,362.23 above the last statement.

For the combined banks, loans and investments of March 31, 1924 stood at $491,050,864.15, a gain of 1 per cent over December 31, 1923. Compared to a year ago, this item shows a 17 per cent increase. Statements of available cash reflect a 2 per cent decrease since the first of the year, and a gain of $110,810.418 over a year ago.

In a comparison of the individual statements, the Security Trust and Savings retains its leadership among the State banks and the First National Bank among the nationals, though the Security shows a slight decrease in deposits since the end of 1923. The Pacific-Southwest ranks second in deposits among the State institutions, and reflects an appreciable gain over three months ago. The California Commercial Trust and Savings, the Bank of Italy, Citizens Trust and Savings, and the Bank of America all report deposits higher than the figures of December 31, 1923.

How We Will Serve Los Angeles

No. 1—Financing Industries

LOS ANGELES' industrial development has not kept pace with the growth in population. We need more industries and those already here must be properly financed if they are to expand.

From time to time this institution will offer to the public various securities of well known and going manufacturers. These industries will be thoroughly investigated before the offering is made. Every safeguard will be thrown around the various issues to make them attractive as to safety, marketability, yield and freedom from care.

It is our desire to serve each patron so that their individual needs will be given special attention.

Those with investment problems are invited to come in and discuss them with us, without obligation.

MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 9.—Without doubt the event of first-national importance today was the publication of the Dawes committee's report on German reparations. So far as could be seen, however, it had no effect on the day's markets: the London, Paris and New York stock markets all being dull and hesitant while the foreign exchange market was marked time. Only the franc advanced appreciably: its rise of nearly 1-8 per cent for the day for the first time above a cents gain and almost to the high point reached a week ago, when a urgent "bear cover" in France had caused the franc to fall. It was the only time that had created something of a "runaway market." But this continued appreciation of the franc was not the result of a financial feeling on the Dawes report. It presumably indicated speculative buying for the rise of the franc, but the fact that the "titlifier" was not now to be feared and that, even if the Bank of France were to refuse to reduce its advances in prices, it would hardly allow the rate to fall back very far.

This seeming apathy of the three markets was not surprising. The general scope of the committee's recommendations had been known for some time. The financial interest today was directed to the detailed provisions of the plan and to the question of the effect on the German

British, French and governments. In regard to the attitude of the government, the committee had informed today, and as for the plan, these were being and intricate and the implications could not be

Wall street judged to rest itself on the committee's recommendation was made by a competent committee, and the committee's attitude was friendly and sympathetic. The findings were unimpeachable, and the basing of reparations on the basis of the mortgages placed on industry was not a new thing. It had its perils, but it was a thing that corporate entities had paid off of the debt in almost every case. It was an obligation; it was just what form that obligation took was a matter for the government and the industries would take care of it. The whole, the financial community had been told, the solution had been long and controversy and anxiety as to how the money would be raised. On the New York prices merely drifted. The violent movements of the market had been of little significance.

but the professional speculators, had a hand in the market was again proved by the very small total to which the day's transactions rose. At 600,000 shares they barely exceeded the very small total of the previous day and, with only two exceptions, made up the most inactive market since last October. The price of the most active stocks moved downward, but most of the changes were small fluctuations which were both advances and declines.

The cotton market for future deliveries was also a little more aggressive, but the closing spot price was slightly higher. Wheat lost ground again; perhaps in part because of the report of the growing season, which gives so high a condition to the crop. The report of a nearly 50 per cent decrease in the area planted, the indicated crop is figured out as less than the forecast given out at this date a year ago, for the crop of 1932.

There is a possibility that the average of the last five years, 1927-31,

Dawes Report a "Dud"
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, April 9.—Total stock sales $15,900,000.

Twenty industrials	averaged
$2.90; net loss	.53.
High 1924, 161.24; low	$2.96.
Twenty railroads	averaged
$4.48; net loss	.04.
High 1924, 48.32; low	$2.74.

As a stock market factor today, the much heralded Dawes report proved to be a "dud" instead of the bombshell that many observers had expected. The report, which ran throughout the entire list is one of the duller full-day sessions this year.

Chief speculative interest centered the Woolworth which broke 38½ points to 301¼ a following the announcement of a recapitalization plan which would be effecting up of the present stock of a 4-to-1 basis by reducing the price to 100 25 and the declaration of a dividend of $1 on the new stock.

And by American Can which was hammered more than 10 points to 100¼, another new 1954 lows was created during the day. They included American Sugar, 69 1/8, and American Steel at 69 5/8, Studebaker old stock 98 1/8, and the new at 98 1/8. Crucible Steel, Willy Overland and the new Willy Overland Lead and Jordan Motors Baldwin duplicated its previous low at 104.

United States Steel common sank more than a point to 97 1/8 or within half a point of the year Indications that the bearish action is still in temporary control of the market was evidenced by a successful manner in which Standard Oil's stock depressed prices in the last hour. While commission houses again reported that the interest was low, the number of so-called small "shorts" was said to be increasing.

Rails and oils held relatively steady until late in the session when they showed a tendency to decline with the rest of the Market. Reactions were held to a point of Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and then eased to 4-1/4 when it closed. There was little activity in the market for commercial paper markets, the ruling rates being 4 1/2 per cent.

DEPICT INDUSTRIAL FUTURE

Speakers Discuss Maturing Plans at Luncheon of Commercial Board; See Good Outlook

"With the East Side Organization planning conditions under which industrial plants may be operated at profit, with the Chamber of Commerce acting as a welcoming and protecting big brother to new enterprises and to those already here, and with the Industrial Finance Corporation of the Greater Los Angeles Association ready to support all promising plants that seek establishment in this area, there is nothing to prevent Los Angeles from becoming one of the greatest manufacturing centers of America."

That is the opinion voiced yesterday by F. R. Feltsham, president of the Board of Education and president of the East Side organization, in an address before the Commercial Board of Los Angeles at a luncheon given at the Biltmore Hotel.

S. C. Graham, president of the City Club and chairman of the executive committee of the East Side organization, spoke briefly of the purposes of the organization, declaring that the aim of that body is to prepare conditions within a 100-mile radius of the East Side which will tempt capital to establish industrial plants.

Charles H. Cheney, a member of the committee of experts engaged by the city to make a traffic survey and to plan a system of major streets for Los Angeles, stated that one of the greatest problems in the city is the lack of means to divert traffic. Incidentally, he called attention to the success in the laying out of Palms Verde.

Mr. Cheney advocated a reorganization of the East Side district, which he said is fast becoming one of the greatest industrial sections of the country. Among other things needed is the extension of El Sereno avenue, said the speaker, explaining that the East Side is handicapped for lack of thorough north and south thoroughfares.

"Above all, Los Angeles must have industrial zones for industrial plants," declared Mr. Cheney. "It is not fair—and in the end is not profitable to anybody—for the factory operators to be compelled to fight small-lot owners."

A. G. Arnold, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared the statement which, he said, has been made by the uniformed to the effect that the industrial zone is not a success in the long run, is a mistake.

"Even in 1915 the industrial production of this county exceeded that of San Francisco county," said the speaker. "We are aware of the fact that the industrial zone is not a success in the long run, is a mistake."

KIWANIS JOINS INDUSTRY DRIVE

goods all over the world and yet your city in 1922 imported nearly $100,000,000 worth of canned meats, grapefruit, tomatoes, corn, beans, soups and all kinds of pickled goods and breakfast foods."

"Some of you buy railroads and steamships and some of you buy automobiles; others buy oil stocks and German marks and some buy tuxedos and headache goods and some buy pianos and shycrappers, but the total will give you a shock, so hang on to your chair and get ready, for here it is: Nearly $100,000,000. Even your most successful realtor did not make that much during 1922. Does this huge sum really mean anything to you or do you just grieve and wonder what it's all about?"

"Well, I assure you it means something to the eastern manufacturer and he's coming hot foot after it."

"Your real back country is defined by a line drawn from Canada south through Mexico, west of Omaha, and consists of four great states and you are selling to and buying from them right now and you have only started."

"Reports which I am now receiving show that California alone will have a population of nearly, if not fully, 5,000,000 by January, 1935, and the total population of your entire back country is more than 14,000,000 people and rapidly increasing."

"You supply the water, hydro-electric power and motor-truck freight roads to your 72,000,000 acres and the rest of the raw materials for your factories, industries and your great and growing ocean commerce."

"Furthermore, this back country will produce much of the raw materials for your factories and consume much of their finished products."

"Our city is growing faster than any three cities in the municipal history of the world," declared Mr. Merrick. "We have an opportunity to make Los Angeles a world city, equal to every war and superior in many respects to London and New York. We have the greatest volume of capital per capita of any similar-sized section in the United States. Our business and public officials of the San Fernando Valley will be tested by the officers of the Greater Los Angeles Association at a banquet today at 7:30 p. m. at the Biltmore Hotel in San Fernando."

The aim of the association is to promote the prosperity of Los Angeles and district by a well-rounded industrial program to be explained at the gathering.

HOME OF THE WAVE
 Some of the New York marcellists are getting $150 for a permanent wave—that is, a wave that will stay put for thirty days.

STANDING ROOM ONLY
 Russia now has the largest standing army of any country in the world. The poor devils have to stand. They have no place to sit nor anything to sit on.

PAYING THE PRICE
 William Jennings Bryan is said to have sent his check for $5 to the Democratic National Committee. Is this an attempt to purchase the nomination? That is really all a nomination on the bourbon ticket is worth.

LOST MOTION
 The Soviet government in Russia is assuming much credit for itself because the Russian railroads are now hauling twenty-eight tons of freight for every 100 tons moved before the war. In other words, the lines are about 25 per cent as efficient as they were in the days of the Czar. They are doing only about one-quarter of the business they handled in former days. Yet the Russian folk are expected to give three hearty cheers for the Communists.

BIG AND AWKWARD
 It costs the government about $1.40 to collect each $100 of last year's income tax. It is hoped to reduce this to about $1.25 with the next raid, but, at that, it is a rather heavy rate-of. Beyond this the taxpayers are themselves put to extra burdens through feeling impelled to hire experts to show them how to compute their own payments. The way the income tax is levied and administered is complicated and costly. If the creation of the revenue law was in the hands of economic experts, rather than politicians, the government would reap more revenue with less friction and expense.

PERSONALITY AND CLOTHES
 One of the big universities now has a class in designing and consuming with a lot of reflecting personality. There are a lot of people who suffer through life because of their inability to realize on their own assets. They fail to indicate such personality as they possess. Possibly they do not know how to dress. They do not make the most of their physical qualities. They are as a square peg in a round hole. Possibly they could achieve distinction by wearing plush pants and a freeman's helmet. A college course will show them the way. Some personalities are effective in harmony. Others dominate in discord. The college will help in determining which is who. Great stuff!

VOICE OF MICHIGAN
 Michigan voters also reserve the right to change their minds. Four years ago the Republicans of that State enrolled themselves heavily under the Johnson banner. The Californian led the field by a fat plurality and virtually had things all his own way. This year it was thought that the Wolverine State might repeat. Johnson made a personal campaign in the cities and was received with the same old acclaim. But when the day of the primary rolled around the citizens of Michigan journeyed to the polls and cast their ballots for delegates representing Calvin Coolidge. They listened politely to the stentorian breathings of the Californian and then went and voted for old Safety First. In fact, everybody's doing it.

SWELLING THE MOB
 According to the survey of experts an average of 300,000 cars roll through the business district of Los Angeles every day. There are not that many cars owned in the city, but there are thousands that pass through congested territory a dozen times a day. There are thousands who are doing absolutely nothing but increasing the congestion. They have no actual business downtown, but they spend hours each day in driving up and down thoroughfares that are packed with motors. The day may come when it will be actually necessary to rule out from the city's center all cars that cannot provide good warrant for their presence. In the meantime those who really wish to assist in easing the problems of city traffic can help a lot by keeping out of it.

LAND OF THE FREE
 When the industrious Japanese leave their own picturesque island empire they are more likely to seek a foothold under the Stars and Stripes than any other banner. Although Manchuria is the first natural outlet for the race there are more Japanese in American territory than in Manchuria and China combined. Upward of 600,000 Japanese have left the home nest for other lands and more than 250,000 of them are under the American banner—either in the United States, the Hawaiian Islands or the Philippines. Nearly 50 per cent of the Japanese absentees are on American soil. However, the same is true of almost all nations. There are more Irish in America than in Ireland and from 50 to 80 per cent of the emigration from any European country is now found hooked up with Uncle Sam. We get 'em all, but it is time we had something to say about the selection.

WHETHER TO DO OR TO DIE

Whether in intelligent recognition of the hopelessness of his case or merely through disinclination longer to take punishment, Senator Hiram Johnson has called a conference of his political managers to consider, in view of his overwhelming defeat by President Coolidge in Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska, the matter of his withdrawal from the Presidential race.

Mr. Johnson's withdrawal at this time will make no difference in the result at Cleveland, or in all probability, in those States where he proposed further opposition to the President's nomination, for Mr. Johnson is not a factor. Not only has his own personality failed to attract attention, but he has singularly failed to win consideration from the nation by reason of his destructive and irresponsible campaign oratory.

Although rejected so decisively by the Republican electors of Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska, his candidacy is no more defunct today than it was yesterday or a month ago. If he is able to accept defeat now and cease to invite further evidence of his political poverty, he may be saved additional embarrassment and regret, but what Mr. Johnson does or does not do has long ceased to have political significance.

The defeat of Mr. Johnson in three States-wide primaries this week is no less final in administering a death-blow to his own candidacy than in its definite showing of the strength of Mr. Coolidge. The Coolidge victory in Michigan was a different victory than the Coolidge victory in Illinois and the victory there was still different from the Coolidge victory in Nebraska.

In each of these States different political alignments, a different state of public mind and different economic conditions existed. In each State Mr. Johnson made every appeal to prejudice, bias and discontent. He was an active, belligerent and aggressive candidacy as opposed to the candidacy of one whose attention to duty and natural inclinations permitted only the submission of his name and record. Mr. Johnson lost; Mr. Coolidge won.

Because of his violent and vicious denunciation of President Coolidge and the policies of the President, Mr. Johnson has virtually destroyed any usefulness he might have had in the Republican contest. And yet, so far has he been at all times from sounding a real or a true note in any phase of national interest, he now finds himself unable to muster sympathy, encouragement or recognition even among those who, like himself, are bent upon political unrest and destruction.

Rejected alike by radical, liberal and conservative, he well may, at this time, consider withdrawal from a contest in which he really has never been entered. He has spent thousands of dollars, disregarded his duties and responsibilities at Washington for months, wasted time and effort in fruitless appeals, and while the net result of thirteen votes delivered to him by the Nebraska-McMasters political machine in South Dakota. During the same time and without uttering a single campaign pledge or promise, President Coolidge has been pledged 526 delegates from twenty-five States—being twenty-nine less votes in the Republican Convention than are necessary for a choice—and before the California primary is held in May the President's nomination on the first ballot will be assured.

INSULTING THE COURTS
 Judge Butler of San Rafael has ruled that the Power Bureau cannot spend any money to answer the untruthful attacks of its enemies. . . . But you, Mayor Croyer, can turn the fair calamity into a benefit. Now is the time to teach little groups of ruthless tricksters to respect the rules of fair play.

This and more from a wild wall of vomit from a newspaper proponent of the Power Bureau's self-assumed right to look down with magnificent disdain upon the law and the organized powers of government.

The frenzied cry quoted above is from an appeal from those passing around the hat in behalf of the bureau, condemned by the court decision to pay back the money it improperly expended for jass bands, marcel waves and page advertisements to defend its own official inefficiency.

Although it is in line with the Power Bureau's general attitude of superiority, it would seem to be going pretty far to insult the judge who tried the case was a "ruthless trickster" and that his decision was an "unfair calamity."

The truth is, the suit decided against the Power Bureau was a righteous suit at law brought by W. W. Mines, who deserves the highest commendation for having been the sufficient public spirit to bring this board of reckless wasters to book through the orderly processes of the courts.

The case was tried strictly on its legal merits by a judge who was not a resident of Los Angeles and who had no personal interest in the matter.

The court was free of biasing influences of any kind and the decision properly and, not surprisingly, held that the public moneys collected by the Municipal Power Bureau should be expended for the purposes named in the law; not to be scattered at the wild, sewer will of the members of the bureau to satisfy their whims.

SENATOR WHEELER'S DILEMMA
 Senator Wheeler of Montana, prosecutor and judge of the Daugherty inquiry, is the first to be indicted by a Federal grand jury for unlawfully receiving money as bribe for failing to influence the issuance of oil and gas prospecting permits by the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of the General Land Office. He evidently paid too little heed to the injunction that "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones."

His indictment comes as a distinct shock to the country. It is a stain upon the Senate that expulsion alone can erase. Clearer light is thrown upon the Senate coalition that has made use of assumed authority to smother with the slave of scandal the reputations of honorable men.

His defense is that he rogues have adopted from time immemorial. He says the indictment "is a frame-up" concocted by the Department of Justice. But former Atty-Gen. Daugherty demolishes this defense by the simple statement that the investigation was conducted by the Federal grand jury, that the Department of Justice had nothing to do with it.

Senator Wheeler announces that he will arrange to have the trial of the case delayed, that he will remain in Washington and continue to conduct the inquiry. But in this he is assuming authority that he does not possess. The Senate may conclude that he will serve the country better by returning to Montana and clearing himself of the charges that are a reflection on the Senate itself, so long as it continues to recognize him as a member. It is in the power of the Senate to declare his seat

NOT 'WHY?' BUT 'WHY NOT?'
 Critics will see in the visit of President Coolidge and his wife to a negro employee of the White House who is only a "gallery play." For this suspicion, to all probability, there is no foundation, except the pleasure that comes to the President and his wife from acts done with good ones.

Instead of getting excited over this visit as some would have it, the thing to do is to ask, "Why shouldn't the President show ordinary human kindness like anybody else, and why should the showing cause surprise?"

That the news of the visit to the humble home promptly reached the newspapers reveals something about the carelessness with which, very properly, the Washington reporters keep an eye on the President's comings and goings, but it discloses nothing at all in regard to Mr. Coolidge, except that in his high office he remains what he always has been—a quiet man of the New England type, with no illusions as to the obligations or privileges of the place to which he has attained. He will do now anything he has done in the past, will draw no unaccustomed lines, keep an eye on the President's comings and goings, but it discloses nothing at all in regard to Mr. Coolidge, except that in his high office he remains what he always has been—a quiet man of the New England type, with no illusions as to the obligations or privileges of the place to which he has attained. This is the Iron — Price $6.75

The word spreads from woman to woman "Hotpoint is the electric iron"

WOMEN who have used several electric irons will tell you that there is only one really modern iron on the market.

Hotpoint starts out with the idea that an iron must not only iron from well (hence the point is even hotter than the rest)—but that it must do it comfortably and with as little effort as possible.

That is why the Hotpoint Iron—and no other—has the strength-saving Cantilever Handle—allowing your muscles to be free and relaxed instead of cramped.

That is why the Hotpoint Iron has the Attached Heel Rest—to save you hundreds of pounds lifting in a morning's ironing.

And the Hinged Cord Plug with Ball Joint—preventing snarling and breaking of the cord. As well as other features that make your ironing better and easier than you ever thought possible.

Here is proof again that women are quick to appreciate real help with their household work—there are more Hotpoint Irons sold than any other make.

Can Time
Be Turned Backward?

In actuality, no. In effect, yes.
It is simply a matter of preserving the youthful lines of the face and the childhood texture of the skin. A woman is as young as she looks, and as beautiful as her skin is fine.

Vivado's has based his new astounding cream on that truth.
This wonder cream beautifies by restoring to the skin its early childhood fineness, and with it a new smoothness, firmness and clearness.

Deep down
under your skin
are the tiny nerves
that cause your itching

STUBBORN rashes, eczema, skin disorders small and serious! You cannot hope to relieve them with mere surface salves and remedies. It is below the outer surface of your skin that the real irritation lies—deep down where cells are clogged with poisonous germs, where tissues are swollen and inflamed.

Yet there is a way that will bring almost immediate relief. To show this, a candid data is called today recommending Resinol Ointment as a safe and effective remedy. Absolutely pure, healing, mildly antiseptic, Resinol will often soothe away in a day or so the most stubborn rash, or the most troubling blemish.

If you have today any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, try Resinol. Get a jar at your druggist today, or send for a free trial

WOMEN VOTERS DISCUSSED

Miss West, English Authoress, Pleases Hollywood Club With Address on Politics in Native Land

money, service, sane thinking, & new thought, leadership, love, dependable loyalty—some one of these to qualify.

REQUIREMENTS CITED

"A woman's club requirement differ from every other organization, and that is what makes federated clubs the most powerful," said Mrs. Burdette. To be in the P.T.A., you have to be a parent, to be in the D.A.R. you have to have certain kind of parents, to be in the Daughters of Confederacy still other kinds of parents, and to be in the W.C.T.U. you have to wear a white ribbon. But all you have to have to be a club woman is honesty."

Mrs. Copeland Lineman, chairman of legislation, was the speaker of the afternoon with the subject "Intelligent Citizenship."

"For long years women have had their decisions made for them and it is now necessary that they learn to meet different situations. When we read that a rainy day makes a difference from 10 to 30 per cent of the number of votes cast for even so important an election as the President, when we hear that in one community the bond issue for erecting a million-dollar school is so neglected that the school is not built, the president and the secretary of the Board of Education, are voters, can there be any doubt of the need of civic training?"

This is the closing day of the convention, which set out the program for the coming year. The reports of thirty clubs given yesterday it was stated, are most without exception by the presidents that nearly 100 per cent of the membership had registered and that no club had less than 100 members. The result of a campaign among clubwomen to promote more universal registration of members, with registering tables in every clubhouse in the district.

Rebecca West's first appearance before a woman's club was even more happy than was anticipated when she spoke yesterday afternoon before the Women's Club of Hollywood on "English Women in Politics." She did not try to tell American women how to conduct their own affairs.

"We shouldn't be too hard on the man. He used to have the hardest time of all when he had to fight for everything—food, water and even his wife. But now when he sees he is not getting on as well as he wants to—and he isn't in this post-war time—then he develops a most marked tendency to harass women. If you are in trouble it's some comfort to see things worse than you do them. But men haven't that comfort when they look at women nowadays, and he develops an anxious hope that she will not do as well as he does."

"Women teachers have an obstinate habit of getting married in England, and the man-ruler government is to turn them out then. But now they are finding out they turn out their best ones, so they are not so sure of their own sex consciousness or things will be taken away from them in the future."

"It is not safe for women to lose their sex consciousness or things will be taken away from them in the future."

"It is not safe for women to lose their sex consciousness or things will be taken away from them in the future."

CRAZY ON POLITICS

"England has gone quite crazy about politics to an extent Americans don't understand. On the one hand men are always talking politics and women more than men, and much more than they do here. The reason is because women there have a more restrictive culture than you have. They have nothing to correspond to clubs like this."

"Then the smallness of our country is another reason," Miss West continued. "London is like having your Washington set down in New York City. Your country is so vast you don't see your politics. We do. We see them on the streets, in taxis, we read them and about them. We know what kind of shoes and hats they wear and what sort of a stick they carry. We are a small town among the nations."

"Then the way we got the vote as compared to your way—it isn't a fight that men gave us. We grabbed it. But it was an ideal. We fought with bitterness. Then we got it in so and a way—as the result of military."

GAINS RESPECT

"The vote is something that makes you respected. The vote is something men want to buy—with money or no—but by giving something the women need and need such a lot of things for our government."

Dr. Frank Nagel presented "Tosca," a capacity audience greeted Mrs. Grace Hayer, Carl Gustav and Dudley Chambers, who took leading roles.

"The Heroic Hero," is the interesting title of the program planned for the Women's City Club, Monday next. Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson of the International Narcotic Educational Association will direct the meeting. Dr. Ralph E. Jones, director of the department of education, and John Nolan, chief of the speakers bureau, will speak. The following members will serve on the election board: Miss Ruth Sterry, chairman; Mrs. D. C. Garrett, Mrs. Rena Martin, Mrs. J. B. Green and Mrs. Sarah J. Smith.

The Constitution of the United States is to be the subject of a talk by Miss Helmine Schwed at the Los Feliz P.T.A. this afternoon in the school auditorium. Vocal solos by Mrs. E. Q. Eversden and piano solos by Kathleen Shinn will form the musical program. The association will meet at 8:30 p.m. to a lecture for fathers on the 25th inst., when Police Chief Vollmer will speak.

Current politics centered in the new city charter will be the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Republican Study Club at the Clark

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

The saying goes that from 8 until 5 is enough for any girl to work, and that recreation should be the order of the day after 5 p.m. One member of the Business Women's Club, Miss Lois Peyton, has taken this recreation time as an opportunity to do a little more work. And if anyone doubts that building a bungalow consisting of two rooms, kitchenette and bath isn't work, let him try it. Miss Peyton planned it, ordered the lumber and built it without aid of any kind. Which shows that stenographers are good for something besides writing footnotes and powdering their noses. This little house is situated at 1214 East Seventy-ninth street and when finished will have a plasterboard interior, hardwood floors and all the regular "fixes" that make a house a real home.

Unfamiliar with American methods of raising money for social work, a group of Russian baronesses, who are next Monday at the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club at 3:30 p.m., comes virtually unheralded save for glowing tributes paid him by the northern newspapers, who discovered him possessed of unusual interpretative powers and a pleasant voice. Natalie Marbury will accompany him. Drama section members will read "Loyalties" by John Galsworthy at 8:45 a.m. and at 11 the parliamentary law section will meet. Mrs. E. B. Hamilton, who as luncheon chairman for the "first Monday" luncheon of each month plans and partially executes the menu for from 60 to 100 members, will serve in a new role, that of presiding hostess, and will introduce as speaker Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, home economics expert.

An American opera written by an American who believes in beginning at home in all great ventures will have its first reading when Charles J. Wadsworth's "Witch of Salem" is presented before the Hollywood Opera Reading Club. Mr. Cadman counts this opera the most satisfying work he has done and assured Mrs. Loren St. Curtis, president of the club, that this club in his own home city would have the first chance to hear excerpts. A check for $200 was voted to swell the organ fund of the new Hollywood High School at the last meeting at which why everybody raved about Mrs. Clarkson's Spice Cake!

When her friends insisted on knowing just HOW Mrs. Clarkson made such delicious spice cake she gave them the secret.

"In the first place you must have good, pure ingredients—good cake flour, good butter, fresh eggs and full-strength spices and flavoring extracts."

"I always use BEN-HUR spices and BEN-HUR extracts because I've never found any spices or extracts to approach BEN-HUR in genuine flavor and strength."

"That's the REAL secret, and when these spices and flavoring extracts are blended by baking or cooking, their exceptional quality gives the delicious flavor that makes everybody say, 'Oh, how good!'"

Just try a spice cake according to Mrs. Clarkson's recipe above, using BEN-HUR Products, and the family will rave about your cooking skill.

Heretofore, only one laboratory has been maintained, all samples being sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The proposed branch laboratory at San Francisco is one of the first to be established throughout the country for the purpose of expediting the examination of samples taken in connection with the Harrison narcotic law and other internal revenue laws. The new laboratory will be in charge of Agent R. F. Love. According to information received, the new branch will be headed by Collector Goodrich of Washington.

Revenue officials have been informed that the following items are considered, careful beverages and suspected beer taken in bulk with the purpose of testing for the presence of mercury in order to hold the alcoholic content at the point reached at the time the sample was taken. When the results are obtained, the agents failing to mark these samples "poison" will be subject to prosecution.

Mr. Ritchie came here from San Francisco, where he went over the water-supply system for several days, and will devote an equal length of time to conditions here. He will also visit various eastern cities and will then go to Europe.

October 11, 1923, after the death of her husband. In her affidavit, she stated that she was married shortly after her husband's death, that he had been untrue to her, and she said that because of this knowledge she suffered a nervous breakdown. She stated that this resulted in her becoming incompetent and susceptible to the influence of others.

It was during this time that the respondent Yoders were said to have prevailed upon her to relinquish her claim to her children. She further stated that the respondent Yoders had promised to give her the company of her children after the adoption, but that they refused.

The court then granted an order to show cause why the adoption proceedings should not be set aside, the order to be returnable before Judge Archibald of the Juvenile Court at Minniscott.

Push your chest out all you want, but don't let your head lead in the meantime, stick to the plan.

That is the philosophy of life that E. M. Cowie, who started out as an office boy and is now president of the American Express company, learned in Los Angeles last night when he spoke to the students of the University of California at San Francisco, after spending 10 days here on a tour of "central business" in the city.

Mr. Cowie, with his employees and family of five people as possible, is the American Express company's first president that is the son of a "rube" who has been so touch that "punts," he said. "That is why I am here and why, I think, I am here."

"That is one of the reasons I am coming back," he said.

The express company is one of the largest employers of labor in the United States, according to Cowie. It has more employees than any other system, he said.

WARRANTS OUT FOR MCARTNEY

Wife Signs Three Charges at Her Bedside

One Assault With Weapon,
Another Plain Battery

Third Evidence Conspiracy;
Tells of Promises Made if He
Two Accuse Blair

Three complaints were issued yesterday by the District Attorney's office against Grant McCartney, Los Angeles real estate man, who is being sought by deputy sheriffs and detectives, following charges brought by his wife, Mrs. Pauline McCartney, Sidney Blair, a former employee of a local detective agency, is jointly accused in two of the complaints.

McCartney is charged in one complaint with assault with a deadly weapon against his wife last Sunday night. A second complaint charges him and Blair jointly with assault by means and force likely to produce great bodily injury to Mrs. McCartney. The third complaint charges the real estate man and Blair with conspiracy to prepare false evidence.

SIGNED AT BEDSIDE

The complaints were signed last night by Mrs. McCartney in the presence of Judge Robert H. Scott and Investigator Bert Eaton of the District Attorney's office. The officer and Judge Scott made a trip to Mrs. McCartney's bedside at her home, 525 South Oxford Boulevard, as she was still unable to be up yesterday.

Mrs. McCartney was picked up Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff J. L. Herrod, who saw her fall from a fast moving automobile on Wilshire Boulevard near Carthage Center. She charges she was lured to a roadside by Blair on the pretense of pointing out her husband to him for the service of papers in connection for her demand for temporary alimony. Blair struck her, she declared, and forced her to a compromising position while a flashlight photograph was taken. Her husband appeared after the picture was taken, she said, and forced her to leave the roadside in an automobile. He then followed the automobile and compelled her to get into his machine after striking her with a revolver, she declared.

The photograph which took the flash has been identified as W. A. Hughes, according to Investigator Eaton of the District Attorney's office. He is exonerated of all blame, Eaton declared.

Hughes retained the negative of the photograph taken at the roadside, he said yesterday. He called up Mrs. Enlin Nougaret, mother of Mrs. McCartney, on Monday night, he declared, and told her McCartney would not print the print or negative of the picture.

Later Hughes got in touch with the District Attorney's office, according to Investigator Eaton and convinced the investigator of his innocence. He declared he had been summoned by telephone and had no idea what was being planned. He is now working with the District Attorney's office, Eaton said.

Deputy Sheriff Stensland, Weir, Modt and Dewar were searching for Blair and McCartney yesterday, while an independent police investigation was carried on by Detective Lieutenants Williamson and Christensen. No trace of the two men had been found up until a late hour yesterday.

Barney Margolis, proprietor of the roadside where the assault was said to have taken place, said he had seen Blair mix something in a glass which he later ordered the waiter to take to Mrs. McCartney. She was questioned yesterday by Capt. William Bright of the homicide squad of the sheriff's office and deputies working on the case. The two men reported their former stories.

DISSOLUTION SUIT FILED

Forrester Says Absolution of Daedler Fake

Testifies at Rehearing in Martinez Murder

Tells of Promises Made if He
Exonerated Pal

Two contradictory versions of the killing in December, 1923, of Arthur Martinez, 5 years of age, in a deserted factory building in Pasadena, were read into the records of the Juvenile Court yesterday during a rehearing of the cases of William Forrester, 15, and Paul Daedler, 14, accused of the slaying. The rehearing was ordered by Judge Archibald Daedler following the receipt of a confession Forrester was said to have given officials of the Preston State School at Lone, in which the youth absolved Daedler from any connection with the crime.

Forrester, however, reverted to his original story when he was placed on the stand yesterday. In his previous confession he was said to have made the statement that he killed the Martinez boy and then plotted to place the blame on Daedler.

RETRACTS CONFESSION

Yesterday he told Judge Archibald Daedler he was present when the crime was committed, but Daedler threw the brick which was said to have crushed the skull of the Martinez boy after he had been shot several times with a small caliber firearm.

Forrester, when asked to explain the confession, said he had made his statement in line with a conversation he had had with Daedler in Juvenile Hall during the course of which Daedler was asserted to have told Forrester he would get Daedler out of the penitentiary providing he absolved Daedler.

DAEDLER TESTIFIES

Daedler, who also testified at the hearing, declared he was not present when Martinez was killed. He said the Pasadena police coerced him into making a confession of complicity in the crime. He also declared that Forrester told him he was (Forrester's way of "getting even" with Daedler for once having threatened to "beat him up."

Chief of Police Kelly and Officer O'Rourke of the Pasadena police force, the closest witnesses at yesterday's session, denied any coercion or force had been used on either of the boys. They said Daedler and Forrester gave their statements without any pressure.

GRIEFS OF PLUMBER MULTIPLY

Wife Adds to His Other Troubles by Filing of Maintenance Suit

More trouble appeared yesterday for W. N. Katz, Western-avenue plumber, who several months ago was named defendant in an alienation of affections suit for $50,000, and whose business was later placed in the hands of receivers, when his wife, Mary Katz, filed a complaint for separate maintenance.

The receiver for Katz's plumbing business is named as co-defendant in the complaint by Mrs. Katz, who asks $15 per month for maintenance.

In the meantime Katz, asserted in an affidavit by Mrs. Katz, filed in the case, that he has been missing from Los Angeles since March 12 last, has not been seen since. The affidavit was produced before Judge York when the application for a receiver for the business was made.

Dingeldien named Katz defendant in the $50,000 suit, charging alienation of the affections. Mrs. Olga W. Dingeldien, Dingeldien asserted that his wife became involved in a love affair with Katz while employed by the latter. He repeated the charges in a suit for divorce.

Jailer Miller was unable to find out who had done the beating and all of the prisoners in the tank refused to talk about it. There were rumors that the "kangaroo court" abolished some time since by Sheriff Traeger, had been revived surreptitiously by the prisoners.

OPPORTUNITIES IN ALASKA SEEN

Pioneer Urges Speculators to Visit Territory

Coal and Mineral Deposits

Cheap Fuel for Los Angeles
Held Available

If the old-timers of Alaska ever organized an ancient and honorable Order of Sourdoughs, W. D. McLaughlin of Fairbanks probably will be elected president.

Mr. McLaughlin, now at the Angelus Hotel, has lived in that territory for almost thirty years and has taken an active part in its development since down and out. He has traveled with dog-sled all over the country, from Point Barrow south, has owned gold-mining claims at all principal camps, has won and lost fortunes, and once when down and out, had to take a job as dish-washer in a Seattle restaurant.

OPPORTUNITIES SEEN

"But Alaska is a wonderful place," he declared, "telling of his experiences. 'It's the only place of real frontier territory left in the world. There are opportunities for profit and adventure as any section of the old West ever did. I would not get it out of Alaska. Our coal deposits are enormous,' he said. 'All the coal lands are owned by the government, but anybody so disposed can go and develop mines under license. The royalty asked by Uncle Sam is only a trifle. With the railroad now operating from Seward to Fairbanks, there is no trouble about transportation to tide-water where ships offer the cheapest form of freight transportation known.'"

He added that any coal operator inclined to tackle the Alaska field would get the benefit of development work already done by the government. "During the war the Navy Department planned to supply the fleet with coal from Alaskan fields and spent $1,500,000 for equipment and buildings up there," Mr. McLaughlin said. "When the war closed, these plants ceased operation. An effort was made some time ago to induce private concerns to take them over, but they are still idle. Some day I suppose they will be opened again by the well-sighted operator who will get rich."

SOIL PRODUCTIVE

Apart from the mineral wealth of Alaska, which he says is found in every part of the 512,000 square miles of territory, Mr. McDonald is enthusiastic over its agricultural possibilities. "Last summer we had a small fair at Fairbanks and I saw there four heads of cabbage grown near the town, which tipped the beam at 104 pounds. That's a sample of what the soil of Alaska can produce. Everything that grows in Northern States of this country can be raised in Alaska, and so some day the Territory will support a large agricultural population."

He stated that what Alaska most needs at this time is prospectors and miners to develop mineral resources.

"The mining industry suffered a slump during the war, but has revived and is now almost back to normal," he said. "Last year thirty dredges were at work in different fields taking out gold. This year the number will be increased, as this form of mining is profitable."

He also spoke of the increasing tourist traffic of the Territory, stating that last year some 20,000 tourists visited the chief places of interest, while for the coming season more than 30,000 are booked.

Barney Morris, Cleared of Complicity Charge, is Witness Against Broker

The preliminary hearing of J. W. McDonald, bankrupt pawnbroker, known as the "mystifying man," was continued by Justice Blake yesterday afternoon until today.

McDonald is accused of embezzlement. It is charged that he took several articles of jewelry pawned with him and repawned them with other brokers for larger sums. Witnesses against McDonald yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Durkin of 1531 Sunset Boulevard, and Barney Morris, a pawnbroker. Morris originally was accused with McDonald in a complaint charging them with conspiracy to commit embezzlement. At his arraignment before Justice Hanby, however, Chief Deputy District Attorney Fricke stated that an investigation had shown that he was in no way involved in the case and the charges against McDonald.

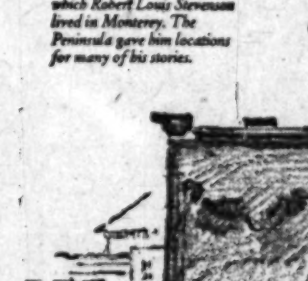

Mrs. Durkin testified that she pawned two rings with McDonald on October 11, 1923, for $225. When she appeared to redeem one of the rings some weeks later, she said, she found a notice on the door of McDonald's office to the effect that he had gone into bankruptcy. Mr. Durkin corroborated his wife's testimony.

Morris testified that one of the rings pawned with McDonald by Mrs. Durkin had been repawned with him by McDonald for a larger sum. Dep. Dist. Atty. Lucas is prosecuting the case against McDonald.

DEATH CAR DRIVER HELD TO ANSWER

Herbert W. Elsie was held to answer to a manslaughter charge yesterday at the hearing conducted by Justice Hanby. According to witnesses called by Dep. Dist. Atty. Heinicke, Elsie was the driver of a car in which Mathilda Taub suffered fatal injuries. Elsie's car is declared to have been speeding when it struck a car driven by H. B. Mills.

A vertical, high-contrast, black and white image showing a textured surface, possibly a book cover or a piece of wood. The texture is characterized by numerous fine, vertical lines and ridges, giving it a rough, aged appearance. On the right side, there is a bright, circular light source, which appears to be a reflection or a light source itself, creating a strong contrast with the dark background. The overall composition is minimalist and focuses on the interplay of light and shadow on the textured surface.

Around the slogan Trade Upstairs and Save $10, Foreman and Clark have built the greatest system of making-and-selling clothes in America! Greatest because simplest, shortest, most direct! Five great factories, manned by our own tailors, build these clothes with fine precision based on steady, specialized production! They work 52 weeks of the year... at each man at his bench, because public demand keeps retail volume steady! Straight from these factories come Foreman and Clark spring suits and topcoats, 6000 every week... to Foreman and Clark upstairs stores from coast to coast! Before they leave each of our five big plants a dozen savings have been built into each suit! Savings on the woollens. Savings on the linings. Savings in factory overhead. Savings on factory selling costs. Savings up and down and through and through the making of these clothes. Between factories and stores another three or four big savings are added to each suit or topcoat! The middleman's profit.

WORLD'S LARGEST MAKERS - & - RETAILERS

These three prices are guaranteed prices. They do not vary up or down. They bring guaranteed savings of at least $10, always, on NEW stocks, NEW styles, direct from Foreman & Clark factories!

the clothing jobber's profit, the traveling salesman's commission, the numerous go-between costs that go into most clothes, but stay with Foreman and Clark suits and topcoats. Then Foreman and Clark economies are piled on top of those! A saving of half a million dollars every year in rent because we are upstairs. A saving in retail cost because our stores are plain, not fancy, and because every man is a producer, not an idler! A saving on credit losses because we take a small profit on turnover, eight times a year, instead of big profit on slow turnover, or twice a year. Foreman and Clark take pride in building the greatest suits and topcoats, selling them at America's lowest prices, nationally known guaranteed clothes... delivering them at a saving of at least $10... backing every garment with the guarantee of satisfaction and the strongest retail service anywhere in the world!
